PRESS RELEASE

Bruce Davies, the Fife based singer songwriter will be appearing at First United Methodist Church of Jefferson City on March 23 at 6pm.

With 35 years as a professional entertainer behind him, Bruce is a musician who's easy on the ear singing and story telling have gained him many friends on four continents. Crisp acoustic guitar playing is one of his trademarks and, as his songwriting hero, Tom Paxton said; he is "one of Scotland's best singers".

Describing his Church concerts, Bruce said, "I am a Christian and see my work, not as 'evangelism', but as 'thought-provoking entertainment'. It's my hope that people will be entertained, stimulated and encouraged by the songs and feeling of each performance".

His recent album 'Blowin' In The Wind – The Other Great American Songbook' has been universally acclaimed and his Edinburgh Festival Fringe show, featuring material from the album, played to full houses. He spends his summers hosting and singing in The Spirit Of Scotland Show'.

Throughout his career, he has travelled widely, performing in prestigious venues in throughout the UK and USA to a huge variety of audiences, including the Royal Family. In a recent list of "The 100 Greatest Cultural Fifers...Ever!", Bruce featured alongside Ian Rankin, Dougary Scott, Val McDermid, Jack Vettriano and other Fife luminaries.

He has received many plaudits but his most treasured are, after a tough gig at the Co-operative Hall, Shotts – "Heh pal, ye dun the bizniss"! and, from Kenny Rogers, at Gleneagles, "You do great work". Radio and television credits in the UK and abroad, include BBC Songs of Praise, where he sung and spoke of his Faith with Isla St Clair.

Expect to hear the best of music from Scotland and beyond when he performs this free concert for our community.
